Big Game

Jets-vs-Hornets

On October 30, 1998 the Jets once again battled the Alameda Hornets under the lights at Thompson Field for the island wide trophy.

This game was big. There were an estimated 800 people in the stands that night. Throughout the cold, windy night our Jet football team played hard against the Hornets. Sophomore Derrek Williams #45 Wide Receiver made the first touchdown for our team. The crowd went wild.

Although the Jets lost the Big Game, 46-12, spirit and pride stayed alive throughout.

Coach Dye encourages the team before sending them back onto the field.

“Seeing that this is my last big game I am going to put all of my heart, soul, sweat, blood and tears into this game.” Jason Lewis #53 Varsity Team Captain
 “Even though we lost I still had a good time, but next year the Hornets won’t get off so easy.” Lalaina Rideout, Junior

Deandre Green #30 desperately tries to out run the Hornets attack squad.

Even after hitting the ground the Jets don't let go of the ball.

With the help of his team mates Deandre Green #30 tries to make a touchdown.

James Saunders #47 covers Jermale Jackson #10 while he makes a pass.

Encinal's crowd cheers their mighty Jets on.

Maurice Cormier #56 blocks Hornets as Jermale Jackson goes for a successful pass.

Quinton Tardy #84 takes a dive while trying to prevent more yardage for the Hornets.

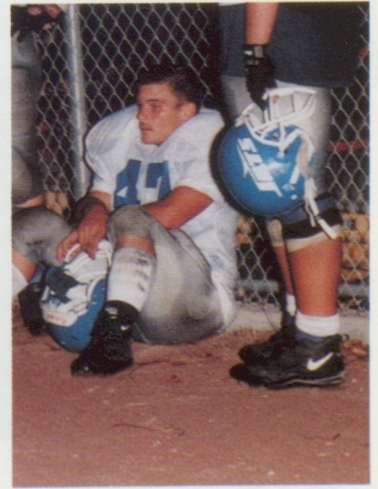

Kyle Kingston #51 takes a needed breather.

Coach Stewart gives Derrek Williams some vital advice.

Eirik Kingston #32 is making a run for the end-zone.

James Saunders #47 tries to recuperate while leaning on the fence for support.

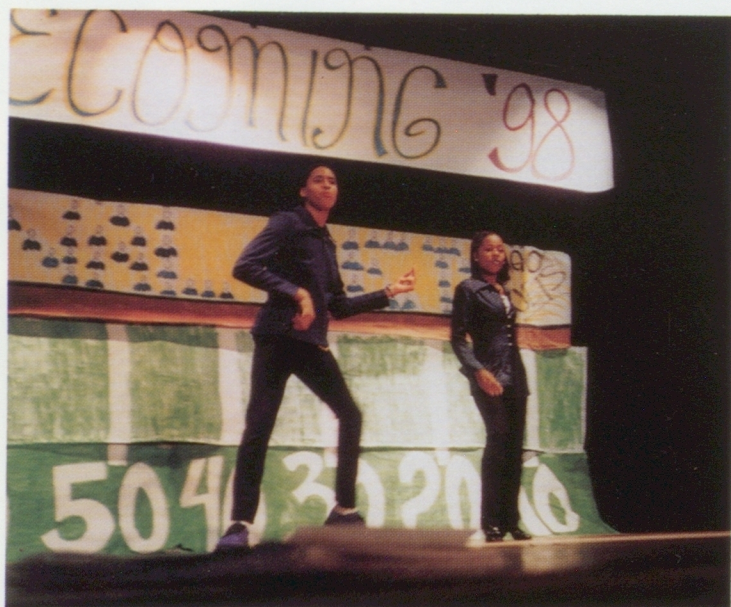

Charles Rainingbird #60 shows good sportsmanship by shaking hands with the Hornets after defeat.

Homecoming Week '98

Straight Out Of Spirit

"Look at Prince"

"Get the ball"

Varsity players Jeff Jones and Dylan Collins tackle a DeAnza player during the Homecoming Game.

Homecoming week is one of the funnest weeks of the year. It consists of open sales, class hallways, class links, homecoming football game, and the homecoming dance. This year's winners for homecoming skits were the seniors, followed by a tie between the sophomores and freshmen, and finally, the juniors. The hallway winners were the freshmen followed by the juniors, seniors, and sophomores. In the links contest, the winners were the juniors followed by seniors, sophomores, and the freshmen. The homecoming game between De Anza and Encinal was a disappointing turnout for all jet fans, but we could have better luck next year. As for the homecoming dance, this year's king and queen were Jermale Jackson and Rena Rivera. Senior Prince and Princess were Julius Cuevas and Jamesa Sturkey. Junior Prince and Princess were Alonzo Jackson and Sayonarra Silva. Sophomore Prince and Princess were Jason Rivera and Dasha Chadwick. Freshman Prince and Princess were Jarvis Stewart and La Trisha Lewis.

Stylin' Steelos

Straight Outta Da Closet

If any outsider happens to peer into the doors and hallways of Encinal, they are sure to find a limitless ground of diverse fashions and trends. Encinal is full of different styles which make our school so unique. This school year was one that welcomed new styles as well as old. You could spot some girls wearing pedal-pusher pants which, believe it or not, actually came from the fifties. But the trends didn't stop with classic come backs, Encinal students brought their own styles to the mix to create individual flavor and outrageous taste. Brand names like Encinal, Mecca, Pelle Pelle, Fubu, Damani Dada, Cybertech, and Avirex were just a few among the various brands to spot. Names like

Tommy Hilfiger, Ralph Lauren, Nautica, DKNY, Old Navy, and Gap seem to have almost become Encinal Classics. With all the name brands and labels, it still couldn't add up against the various styles that range from east coast to west coast flava coming with people sporting good looks such as vintage, sporty, casual, elegant, old school, hip-hop, cultural, GQ, and a long list of original stilos. Accessorizing is also a big Encinal Forte that includes real and fake tattoos along with piercing, various hair styles and hats, jewelry, and body glitter. From shocking and daring to simple and sophisticated, Encinal has just about all the style you can handle.

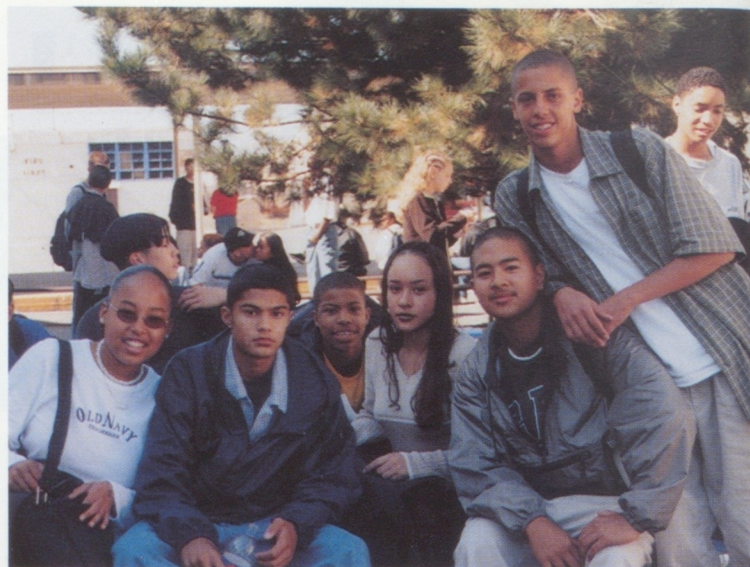

Out To Lunch

"Lunch time is alright but could be a little longer" Jason Lewis

"It's a time to eat and talk." Daniella Sotello.

"Lunch time is nice because I can see my friend and release energy and eat candy." Stephany Welch.

Hanging around Marcus Normant and Reggie James, and friends pose for a snap shot during Homecoming week.

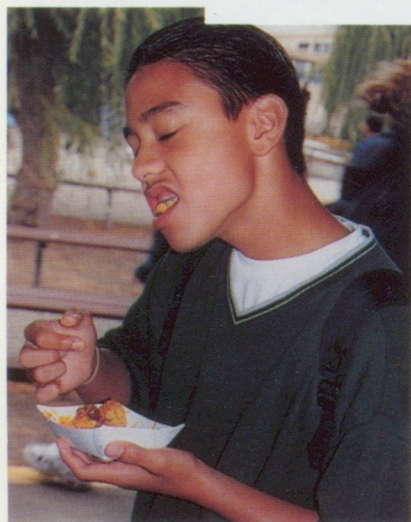

Jasmin Shank strikes a pose while holding her steaming cup of noodles.

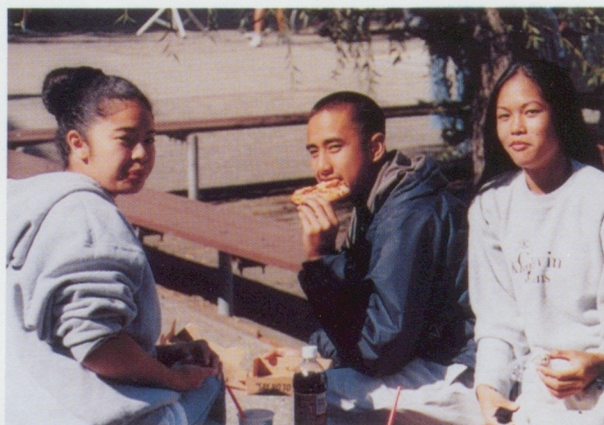

Rena Rivera, Geo Goodlett, Tamara Crockett show off their nighty tidies on Pajama day.

Friends till the end Jason Johnson, Crystal Darkins, Nicole Normant, Treanna Willams, and Xaviera Hillman stop for a dramatic pose at lunch time before buying their lunch.

MMM MMM good Lance Maglaya chows down on frito boats on open sale week.

Can we eat in private Please!! Jessica Flores, Joseph Lapidez, Grace Bernabe mug the camera while trying to eat.

WHAT A HAIR OF A DAY!! Sadie Gardere strikes a pose on Halloween eve with Jolynn Haines.

Lauren Sonneman and Erin Knoth talk as they dine on their lunch while Angela Saporito peaks from behind at the camera.

Alison New examines her lunch while Jay Uppal looks at the variety of food available, trying to decide what to buy.

Denise Leong and Steve Powell paddle their best in hopes of winning the Arthur Anderson physics boat race.

Is that good? Sachi Yoshii slurps up some of her chow mein while listening to the good music in the background.

Thuy-uyen Bui and Vykhia Mai hurry to serve a hungry customer, selling food for the Vietnamese Club.

Cecilia Awayan sneaks in a snack of Garlic Bread while selling food for the Spanish Club.

Gabriela Villareal and Kenya Alfred have a hard time choosing what to buy from all the good food for sale.

At the lunch time scene, Latasha McCorvey and Madel Pineda charm some freshman customers into buying some barbecue and chow mein.

*The Seniors Are Here,
And We're Outta Here!
Last But Not Least...Class Of 1999*

Ahhh ... Senior year, the last year of high school that everyone looks forward to. After all these years of hard work, we finally get one year to chill and relax. But senior year isn't all about maxin' and relaxin', we still have a lot of things to worry about. Such as college and all those applications, SAT's, keeping those grades up, community service hours and all that other school stuff that goes along with graduating. We started the year off as usual with the books, homework, and teachers. But in the midst of it all-Senior Activities. We start off the year by holding the annual Pasta Feed which is one of our fund-raisers. Then there's Homecoming. Since we were freshmen, Homecoming is one of the biggest events for us as a class. This year we partied like it was 1999, and had a great time. We then had a problem we had to solve-Senior Trip. We had to prove to the A.U.S.D. School Board that the class of 1999 was responsible and mature enough to go to Southern California as a class. Talk about showing me the MONEY!!! Through various fund-raisers the class of 1999 has earned a lot of money. All the hard work has paid off, the class has been able to pay for our senior activities such as senior ball, picnic, trip and banquet. One of our biggest and most exciting fund-raisers was the fashion show, which was established by the class of 1999. Many students, of all classes, participated in this spectacular event. We have seen each other grow from young curious freshmen into mature inquisitive seniors. After June 11th, we will all be going our separate ways, achieving our goals and chasing our dreams. Now we must say goodbye leaving behind many things, but the memories will be forever. The future is unpredictable and things will happen just outta the blue, but one thing for certain the class of 1999 will always be true.

Art & Drama

Amy Ponce, Whitney Woolf, Sheree Jackson, and Tyrone Bennett are practicing a script they just wrote in Drama class.

Making art requires a lot of concentration. Senior Latif Sharifi tries not to look up at the camera as he works on his chalk drawing.

Jonny Canalin and Anthony Tirona are working really hard to get a good grade in their drafting class. They deserve a pat on the back.

In Drama, they act out many different scenes. They have fun while they learn.

Datrina Anderson is working at their best ability to make a wooden box.

Are you going to consider Drama as a future career?

“Yes, because I will make a gruesome horror movie.”

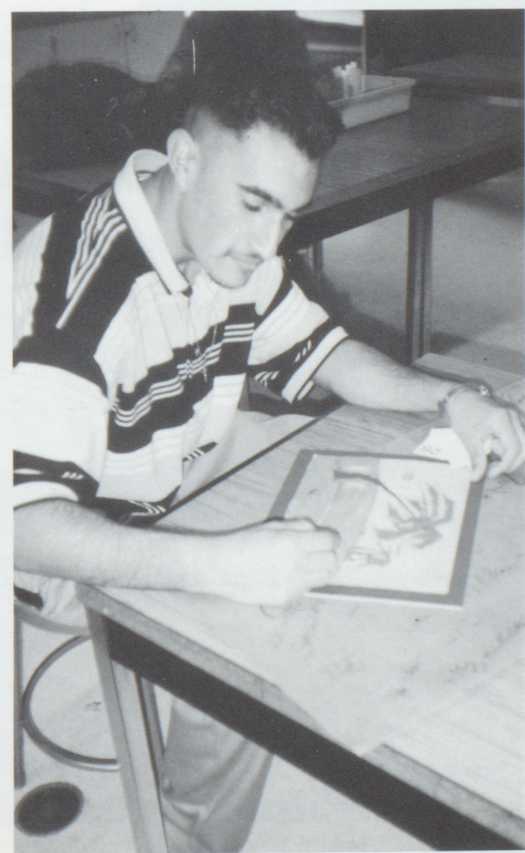

-Marcus Gutierrez, 12th grade

“Maybe, I have all the talent and the skills, but I might have other plans.”

-Reginald James, 11th grade

“I will continue drama because I give it to my mama every night!”

Treanna Williams and Nina Williams express themselves with their strong voices.

These boys and girls put their voices together to make perfect harmony in the Choir class.

Tezeta Bekele and Elijah King-Wright play on to cheer up the Encinal team.

Michael Boyle and Jerry Le show that boys can have fun singing too.

Cory Roberts makes a funny face for the camera. He can play the guitar and the drums.

Michael Boyle, Ashawnta Cartwright, Mary Costales, Sara Cota, Evangeline Flores, Brian Garcia, Christopher Harris, Michelle Hunt, Melanista Jacobs, Jerry Le, Sherika Moore, Jeffrey Thompson, Nina Williams, Treanna Williams, Jessica Zamora.

"I joined band because it's fun to do and looks good on a resume."
-Matthew McKean

"Band is exciting & I got a scholarship in music. I plan to pursue it as a minor in college."
-Tlacaoel Alvarez

"The flagteam is a fun and challenging sport ... it is, really!"
-Bonnie Foreman

Mr. Phelps leads the band in an encouraging song for the Encinal Jet football team.

P.E. & JROTC

As soon as they can get to the puck, these hockey players are sure to make a goal.

Paul Phliphol stands proud in his uniform. He is practicing for the Titan Drill Meet.

"I chose ROTC because it will look better for college."

-Sara Cota

"ROTC provides a challenge. It's a combination of leadership and spirit."

-Nany Lui

Are Maria Garcia-Navarro and this athlete future tennis players? Hey ... you never know what our Encinal students are capable of.

These boys and girls are practicing for the company drill ceremony test. By the way, they ended up with a passing grade.

Kat Morrison is in her P.E. class waiting for the right pitch to hit a home run!

Fernandez, Balolong, and Daniel form a straight line and twirl their rifles in practice.

Ms. Jenkins stands at home base ready to swing at the oncoming ball.

"I joined JROTC because I want to marry a marine."

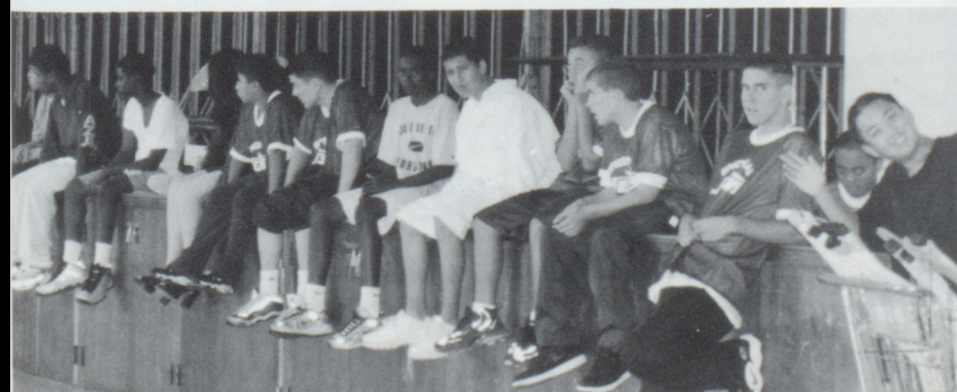

-Krismin Inocentes

"JROTC over P.E.? Easy, it's our future."

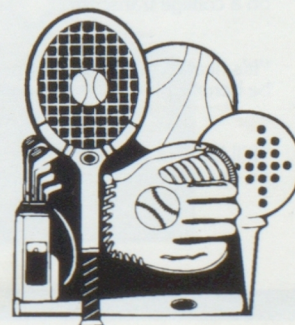

-Teddy Gabriel

"In ROTC you are acknowledged for your skills as a person."

-Twila Villanueva

Some Jets sit around the gym watching a hockey game with excitement.

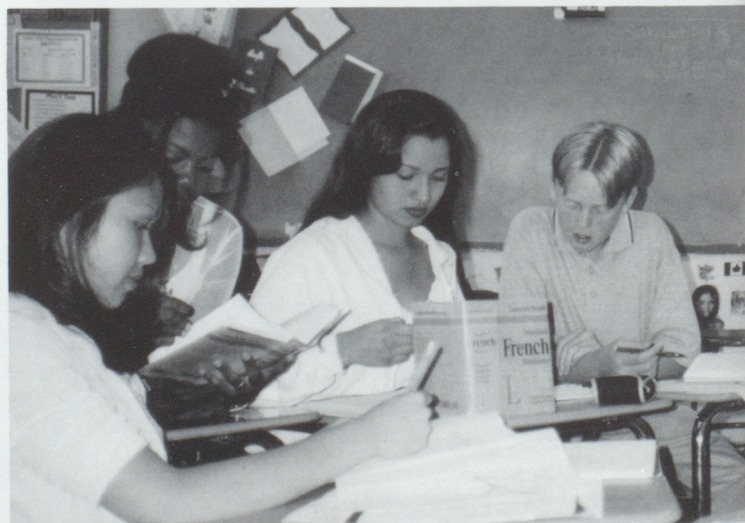

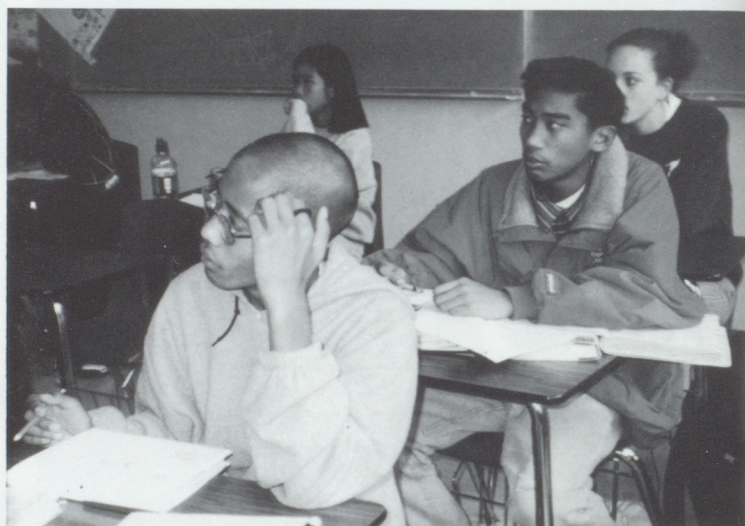

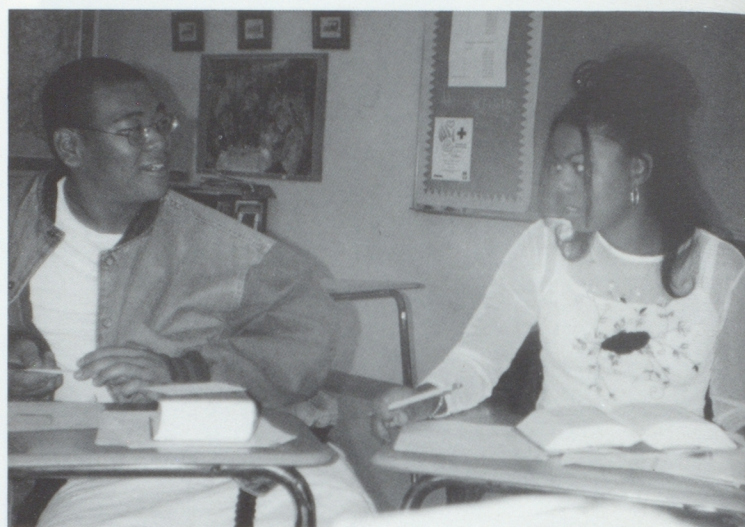

Foreign Language & AACLC

Señor Gerson tells his students the best joke ever, but they don't seem to get it.

Qu'est-ce que tu dis? Senior Keren Harris tries to understand what Andrew Jung intends to tell her in French.

Why are you taking a foreign language?

Being bilingual gives you more opportunities to get good jobs. It is also fun to travel and be able to exchange thoughts and feelings with people from different cultures, who might have interesting things to share with you."

Nathalia Zarate, French

"Because I want to learn another language and travel, and it looks good on a college transcript."

Kate Meissert, Spanish

"It's neat to talk in front of people who don't understand, and it will always be beneficial to know a foreign language."

Megan Kelly, Spanish

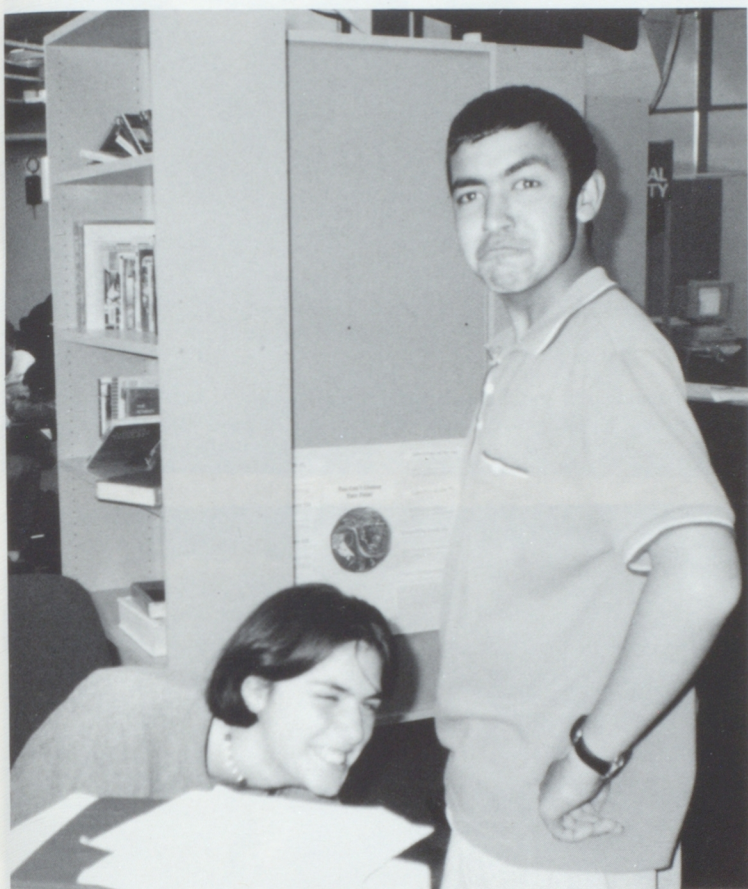

"It'll be an asset for me that would help me get jobs and a knowledge that no one will ever be able to take away from me."

Sheila Caguiat, Spanish

These guys are so into Mrs. Rubin's lecture, they don't even bother to take notes.

Tran Nguyen, Nathalia Mejía and Jeremy Larsen work very quietly on their project, "L'Afrique Francophone."

Sorry Elizabeth Miller, you couldn't get away from the camera, and hey Victor Vasquez, stop acting normal and do something funny!

Nate Brooks is confused as he stares into the monitor, while David Gripfing tries to sneak in the picture with a weird pose.

Why did you chose AACLC over traditional classes?

I choose AACLC because I wanted to try a change from the "traditional" classroom and I had a lot of friends here.

Unknown

Because my sister made me. She thinks it is the bomb. I have to listen to them or else I will lose my privilege at home.

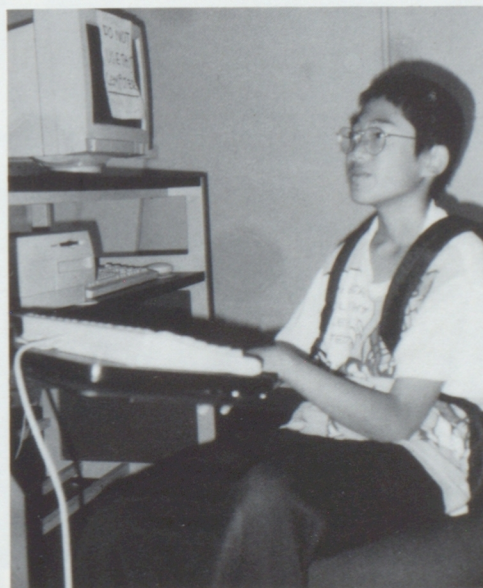

Cuong Pham

Because I have more freedom, and I could sleep all day long if I wanted to.

Kiyonda Lofton

Simon Wong does not realize that he's sitting in the wrong seat. Computers don't always run!

Off-Campus Activities

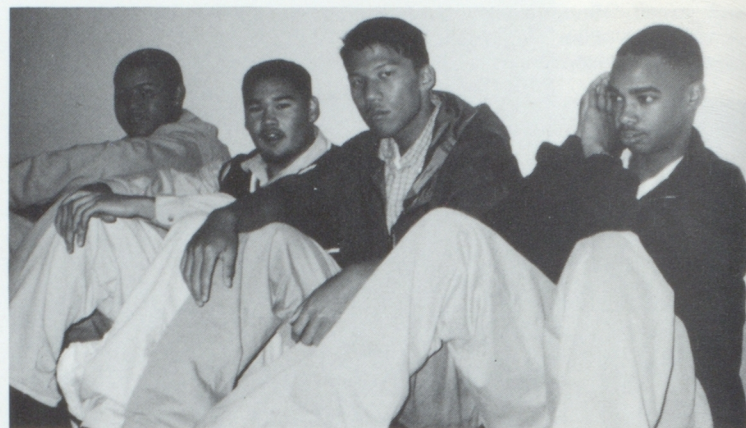

This year, the Encinal Jets have been going places. The trips can be as close as Alameda Point and as far as Washington D.C., Spain and Italy.

The arts were patronized by our students this year. Trips were taken to the musical theater, like "Miss Saigon", and to museums, like the Legion of Honor to see Picasso's paintings.

Community service was the subject of other trips. Students learned the need for community involvement by collecting and sorting food for "Scouting For Food" in November and by helping out in other community events.

The Encinal Jets prove that they are not trapped within the walls of our school. We can also learn outside the classroom by traveling to places that can enhance our learning experience.

Tired of standing in line, Ryan Newton, Brian Cimagala, Jack Chung, and Will Thomas take a rest while waiting to watch the Spanish play "El Barbero de Sevilla."

Key Club Members Mr. Capling, Nathalia Mejia, Kathy Dang, Tam Nguyen, Aleida de Leon, Jon Walker, and Teresa Truong smile at their DCM meeting.

Joyce Lee, Misha Lee, and Manal Fayad learn teamwork skills at Camp Parks.

Louis Parker, Scott Destafney, and Tuan Nguyen pose at the Jazz Festival in San Mateo.

Sadie Gardere applies mud to Eric Esparza's nose while Christina Gatewood and Scott Olsen look on.

Jessica Flores and Christina Chung smile during practice for the Jazz Festival.

Leul Zeru and Loyda Cardona imitate the poses of the ancients at Stanford University.

Rachel Brockman, Dontrelle Willis, Ashly Jones, Terrell Moody, and Miguel Pan help out at the Hurricane Mitch warehouse.

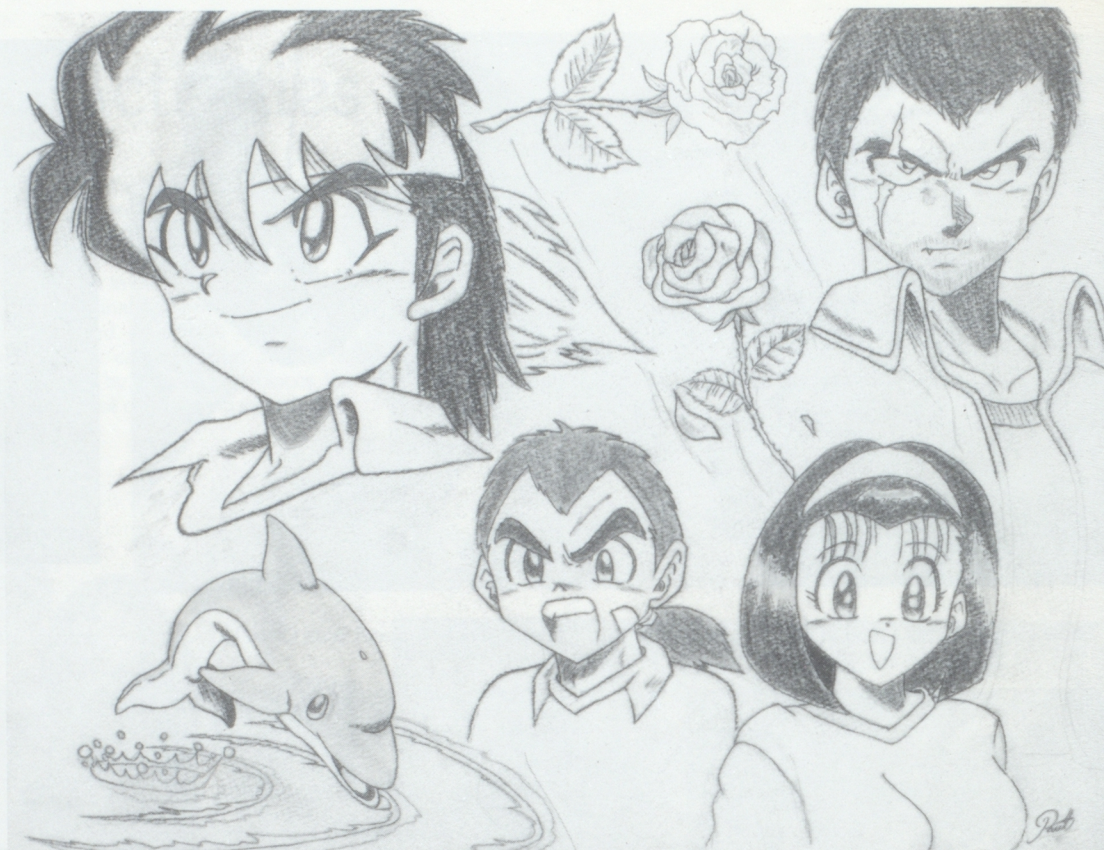

Mike Lopez, Monique Trinidad, Jenny Duhay and Paul Phliphol listen to the Marine Biology field trip advisor.

AFTER A WHILE

After a while you learn the subtle difference
Between holding a hand and chaining a soul,
And you learn that love doesn't mean leaning
And company doesn't mean security,
And you begin to learn that kisses aren't contracts
And presents aren't promises,
And you begin to accept your defeats
With your head up and your eyes open,
With the grace of a woman,
Not the grief of a child
And you learn to build all your roads on today

Because tomorrow's ground is too uncertain for plans
And futures have a way of falling down in mid-flight.
After a while you learn that even sunshine
Burns if you get too much.
So you plant your own garden and decorate your own soul,
Instead of waiting for someone to bring you flowers.
And you learn that you really can endure ...
That you really are strong
And you really do have worth.
And you learn and learn ...
With every good-bye you learn.

WOMEN SPEAK OUT!

I may not be the true mother of your nation.
But I was born from her many generations.
And I am still God's creation
Don't blame me for wanting respect
And making sure that I get it.
That's the least that I deserve
And the love I give is more precious than any jewel is worth.
I may not be very powerful, but believe it or not I'm very strong.
In my heart, soul, body and mind
I have stories of hard times that you could never find.
I'm not the true mother of your nation,
But still I give birth to God's creation.
I've had many stumbles and falls, that have made me stand even more so tall
Don't assume that I am helpless and unable Because there is no reason that I can find to why I should be placed beneath you.
Don't tell me that I'm just a girl.
Don't tell me that you're the best.
As a matter of fact, don't call me anything less.
Make sure that you call me by my name
And remember that you and I are the same
Don't take advantage of my kindness.
If you don't want to see my other side
Don't ever take me or my love for granted, unless you wanna be left behind.
Don't tell me that I can't do things
When you know deep down, I can.
Don't tell me that I'm too small, too weak
And in order to do things right I have to be a man.
Don't put me down, for you should be building me up.
Don't try to tear me down, because us females never give up.
Don't talk down to me, laugh at me, or beat me ...
Because I'll hit back
Don't treat me like a child, don't betray me
Don't love me if you don't want to understand me
Don't be with me if you don't know how to treat me
Don't waste my time, I have things to do
Don't leave me in distress, don't make me blue
Don't bring me stress, don't bring me clout
Just give me love without a doubt
I wasn't born the true mother of your nation
But I have risen from her many generations.
I am God's creation
Make sure that you call me by my name
and always remember that you and I are the same.

IMAGINE A WORLD WITHOUT VIOLENCE

Imagine the grass is green and the birds can sing in peace.
 Imagine the schools are clean and no one is mean.
 Imagine that's a world without violence.
 Imagine you have very short hair and people don't stare.
 They actually like the clothes you wear, these people really do CARE.
 Imagine that's a world without violence.
 Imagine your next door neighbors don't fight.
 If there were no such thing as drive bys,
 Tupac wouldn't have died.
 Imagine that's a world without violence.
 Imagine you don't have to be scared to walk down the street.
 And see someone being beat and think to yourself,

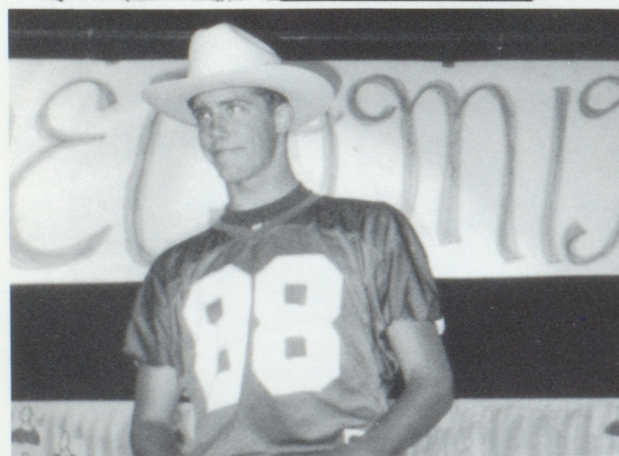

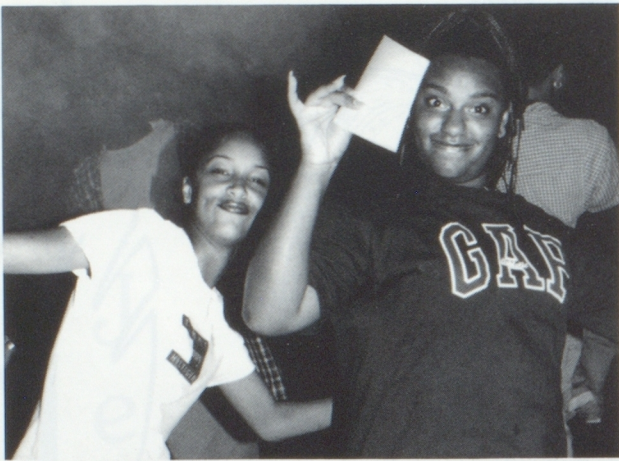

"Will that be me?"

Imagine when you see someone on the streets they gladly speak.
 Imagine that's a world without violence.
 Imagine there's no such thing as jail.
 There's not even a place known as hell.
 Imagine no one robs banks,
 You don't even have to fake to be someone you ain't.
 Imagine that's a world without violence.
 Imagine that babies aren't born with a disease.
 because their mother smoked weed.
 Imagine you won't see any of those wanna be kids on the streets.
 Imagine that's a world without violence.
 Imagine a girl can go out on a date without having fear of being raped.
 Imagine that all the homeless have a place to stay.
 Now they don't have to worry about that cold rainy day.
 Imagine that the whole world can be safe.
 Imagine that's a world without violence.

Juniors

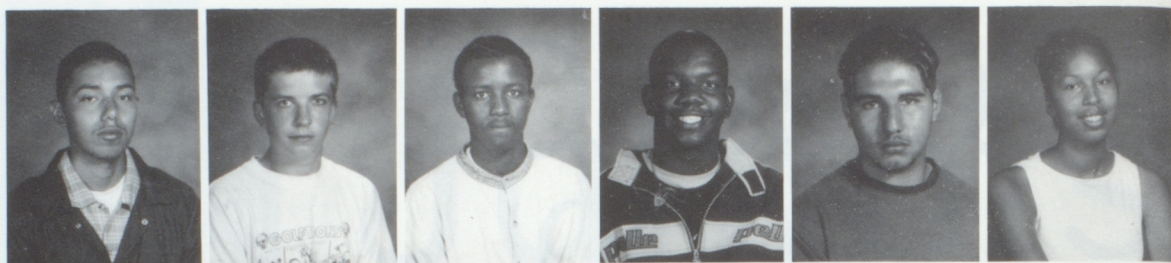

The Class of 2000's time is almost up. One more year to go, so it's time to give it all they've got. They will start their futures at the same time as the new millennium begins. As this year wraps up, so will their most important academic year. So Juniors, keep your nose to the grindstone.

Class Of 2000

Varsity Football

Big Blue Wrecking Crew

The Varsity Football team had a rough season. Despite their losses, they were high in spirit and dedication. Having a lack of players due to injuries, resulted in having a small team on the field. The team never gave up.

The Varsity Football Team ended the season with a record of 0 wins-8 losses-1 tie. This was an off season for our Jet Varsity Football team. Nothing can stop the Mighty Jets from coming back hard next year. Go Jets!

"We were a young team, a lot of new faces. Even though we didn't win any games, it was a successful season." -Jason Lewis, team captain-

Juniors Erik Esparza and Jamal Numan, and Senior Rudolph Basia get some encouragement from the Varsity Assistant coaches Zeager and Dye.

Senior Quarterback, Taj Stanberry walks in from the field after a long brutal fight against the Richmond Oilers. Taj Stanserry had good spirit and Jet Pride despite his injury early on in the season.

Brotherly love! Senior Jermale Jackson passes the ball to his younger brother Alonzo Jackson, who is a Junior. Both players work and fight hard at each game.

Junior Sergio Wright swiftly dodges a DeAnza football player with great ease and power. Sergio plays running back for the "Mighty Jets."

Senior Varsity players: Jason Lewis #53, Anthony Blea #44, Taj Stansberry #4, Derek Williams #45, and Luke Harris #77 come in for half time. Every game these players work together as a team.

El Toro! Tonatiuh Alvarez ram sacks a DeAnza Don making it impossible for him to catch the ball. This year Tonatiuh is a Junior.

J.V. Football

Charging Out Of The Blue

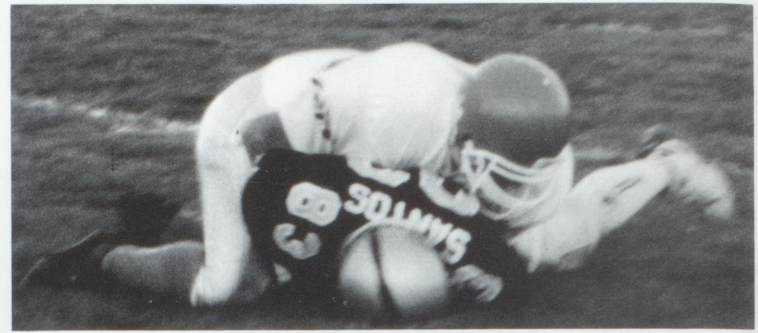

This year there wasn't a freshman football team. All of the Freshman were put on the J.V. team. Since more than half of the team was made up of Freshman, they had a very young team. But that didn't stop them from going out and doing their best. Team captains Jimmy Olsen, Erik Kingston, Charles Rainingbird and Jonathan Harthoorn did a great job motivating the J.V. players and getting them to work hard. It was said that the team was better at the beginning of the season, and then when they lost their first game things started falling apart, but they still went out there and tried their best. We asked one of the team captains Jimmy Olsen how he thought the team did this year, and he told us that they did pretty good considering all of the Freshman on the team. The Freshman on the team said that playing against older teams was challenging for them and made them want to work even harder.

Team captain, Erik Kingston tackles an Alameda hornet during the big game. The J.V. team worked hard.

What was your most memorable game?
“My most memorable game would have to be when we played Albany and we shut them out.”

-Jimmy Olsen

#30, DeAndre Green rushes through the Hornet's offense the night of the big game. DeAndre is a freshman this year, and is very dedicated to his team.

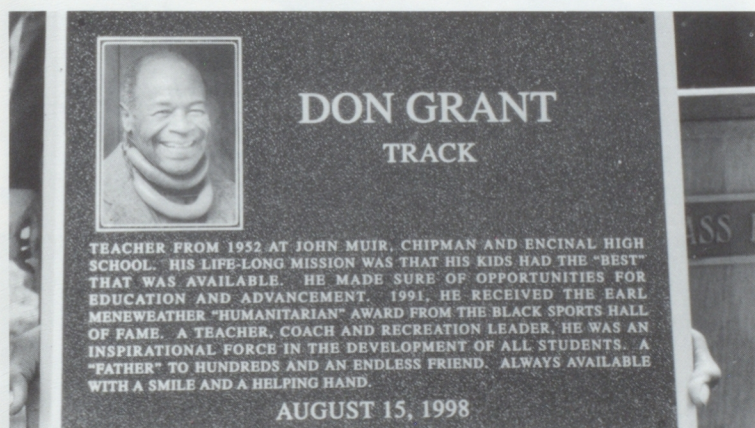

Team work! The Jets show what working as a team is all about as they take down a Richmond Oiler. Jet Pride!

Track Dedication

Don Grant

On August 15, 1998 our track was dedicated to Don Grant. To many he was a true friend, a great man, and a legend. If you missed the dedication you missed a treat. It started with a walk from Washington park and ended at Willie Stargell Field, where a ceremony took place. Many inspirational speakers were followed by our cheerleading team and a performance by the Encinal Choir. The dedicated plaque is now located near the Encinal Gymnasium.

Mere words are not enough to describe the legacy of Mr. Grant.

Principal Dan Kreuzer says a few words about Mr. Grant.

What did Mr. Grant mean to you? How did he influence your life?

"He was my sixth grade teacher, a true life friend, and my mentor. He influenced my life by making me feel that I could do anything that I wanted to." -Ms. Vicki Smith

"He was a father away from home. A true role model for all youth. He influenced my life by not giving up, always staying there. He never believed in the word can't." -Mrs. Esponila Johnson

"He was an outstanding gentleman, working with young people. He set high standards. His life was dedicated to kids and students. He influenced my life greatly leading by example. He taught me to give a person a second chance, and to respect students for who they are, not who you want them to be." -Mr. Jerry Ludy

"Mr. Grant's family unveiling the much anticipated plaque.

Superintendent Mr. Dennis Chaconas, reminisces about the great Mr. Grant.

Girls Varsity Volleyball

Serve, Set, Spike, Score!

Let's go Jets! The girls varsity volleyball team had an exciting season. Through hard work and consistency they showed that they could rise to the top. The girls volleyball team showed that with good teamwork they could accomplish anything. Even through some losses and disappointments, they never gave up and they kept their heads high.

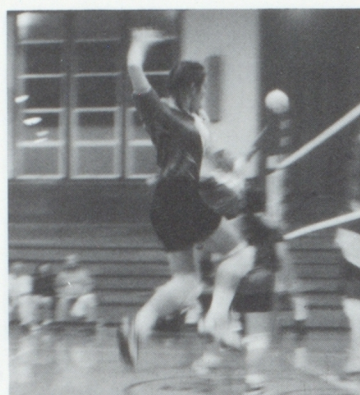

These are very talented young women.

The JV team did very well this season. Consisting mainly of freshmen, most of them experienced their first year of high school volleyball. Many of the girls have the potential to build a strong team for Encinal in the future. With dedication and hard work, the Encinal Lady Jets will grow into a powerful team.

The 1998-1999 women's volleyball team: Riga Hasieb, Raushaneh Bashir, Jennifer Harlen, Jacqueline Randolph, Latasha McCorvey, Ellen Gee, Tran Nguyen, May Tai, Jory LaTorre, Monique Trinidad, and Madel Pineda. Managers: Teddy Gabriel, Paul Phliphol Coaches: May Rose, Chris Bautista, Jaweed Naweed.

Junior May Tai leaps to score for yet another victory for the Encinal Lady Jets. This is her first year on Varsity.

Latasha McCorvey gets ready to spike the ball into the other teams territory. Latasha is the top player for varsity volleyball.

The varsity team huddles together and gives a "Go Jets!" before their game. Their final record was 4 wins-7 losses.

Jacqueline Randolph jumps high to block the ball from coming into their court. This is Jacqueline's freshman year and she is on varsity.

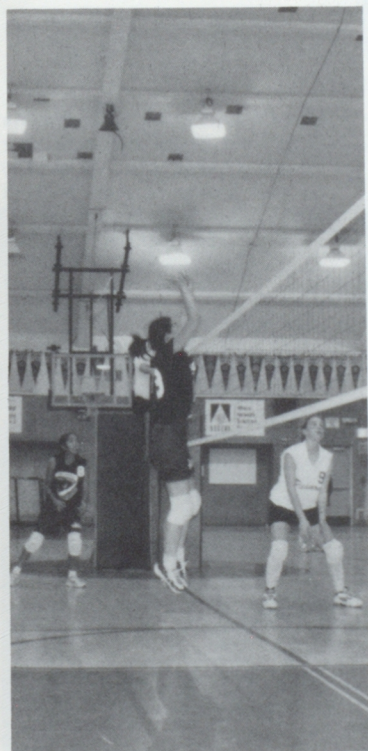

Lady Jets are practicing very hard against each other so they could be ready for their big game.

"C'mon!" In a ready position Justine is waiting for the other team to serve.

"Thank you ladies!" The new JV coach, Coach Mayrose is receiving an appreciation flower from the team.

"Hands off!" Thuy spikes the ball past the other team while Rowena is ready for the return.

Running Out Of The Blue

“As I would watch the track meets I noticed that they were very dedicated and had fun being on the team.” Anonymous

Andisan Ali, Amir Mehanow, Michael Shults, Bryan Dias, Reis Hood, Adrian Quinto, Randy Garchar, and Mike Smith stand with pride and take a picture because they know they are number 1.

Water Polo

Scoring Right Out Of The Blue

This year's Water Polo team was absolutely fabulous. Their record was 6 wins and 2 losses. The team captains are Scott Destafney and Alejandro Flores. With their good skills and encouragement the team beat De Anza, Salesian, Bishop O'Dowd, Berkeley, Logan, and Washington.

The star players were Scott Destafney, Alejandro Flores, Benji Florendo, and Kyle Baldi. Still the team wouldn't have been so successful without their great goalie Jack Chung. Their head coach was Mark Byrne and the assistant coach was Sid Florendo. This was definitely an amazing year for Water Polo.

Jets like to take their time before diving into a pass.

Scott Destafney secures the strap on his cap before returning to the game.

“Our season was disappointing, but still fun.” Tom Giannini, Junior

“Water polo is a great sport and we have a fantastic team. GO JETS!”
Elena Hocking, Junior

Benji Florendo reaches desperately to get a grip on the ball.

Justin Knoth races to retrieve the ball before the opponents get to it first and scores.

Encinal Jets Track

Running Into The Blue

This year's track team was small, but everyone had the heart of a champion. The track team also had new coaches this year, Coaches Mariano Jauco and Frances Mason. The new coaches are a great asset to the team. Everyone works hard and has the will to be number one.

The Encinal Jets track team never backed down when any kind of challenge was thrown at them. Keeping their heads high they worked hard and stuck together. The Encinal track team has a lot of talent and there isn't anyone who can stop them.

The team counts on teamwork, staying together, and determination which has all lead to a great season.

This year the track team has competed against great teams such as Dublin, Piedmont, El Cerrito, and others. The track season started in Spring and ended around the end of the year. It was a long hard season and the Jets had the strength to endure this challenging season. The season was tough, but they never looked back and helped each other out. All of those qualities have helped lead them the way and it has turned this team into a powerhouse.

Will Conage stops for a breather and has time to take a picture.

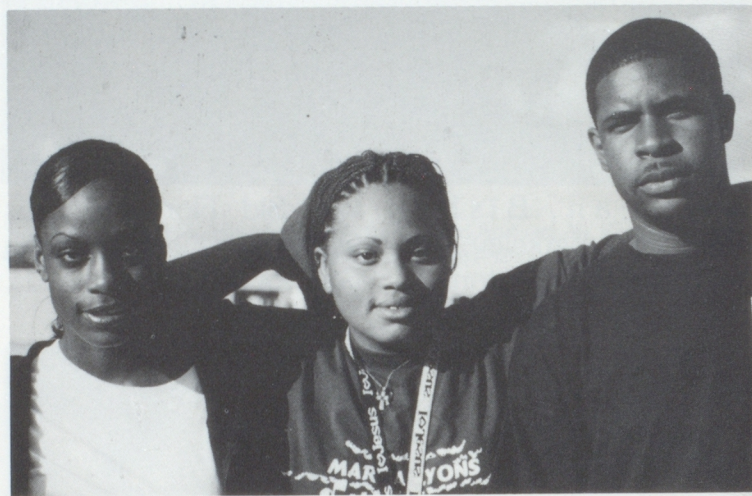

Montgomery Reyes blasts through his opponents for a big lead.

Mike Smith looks exhausted after running a hard run against his competitors.

Deleon Pritchard jogs his way back to the starting line to get ready for another run.

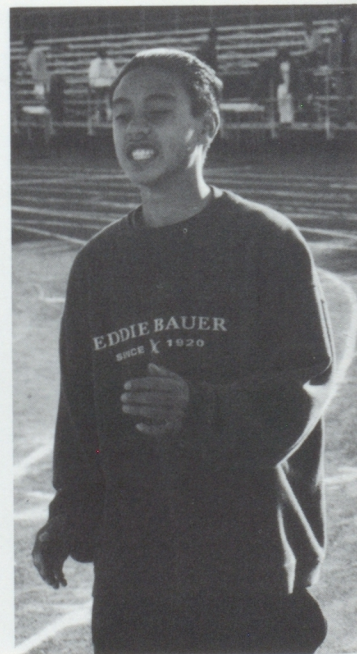

Just kickin' it, Ivory Filmore, Gwen Ferrell, and Mauric Comier hang out after a competition.

Steve Goldsmith finds the power to explode and finishes his hard run in the mile.

Vonetta Moody goes for a warm up jog to get hyped up and to get ready for the competition.

Lance Maglaya breathes hard while he jogs his way around after running a quick 400.

Francis Mason, David Gillory, Ivory Filmore, Jordan Monroe, Vonetta Moody, Montgomery Reyes, Alexis Gantt, Will Conage, Malik Wheeler, Mariano Jauco, Mark Montgomery, Steve Shluchter, Monique Conage, Solari Williams, Glenell White, Glenisha White

Encinal Golf Team

Hitting Into The Blue

Golf? If you didn't know it, Encinal does have a golf team. The coach Jack Schram has been coaching the jets for a number of years and has been doing a good job of passing his knowledge down to his players. Encinal is fortunate to have a home town golf course to play on.

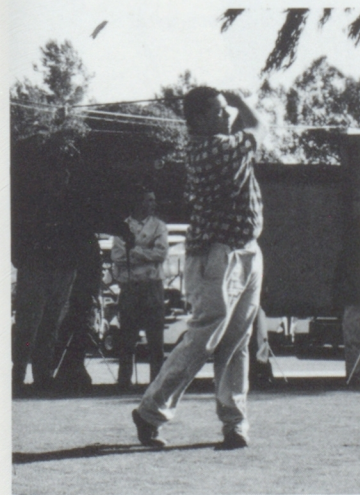

The Chuck Corica golf complex consists of 45 picturesque and challenging holes as well as a new driving range. For the past two years the golf program has been successful and expanding in participants. The golf team has 11 skillful players this year.

Andrew Elisan squares up and concentrates on hitting the ball hard.

Richard Quinn takes a couple of practice swings before he launches the ball down the green.

Luc Harris looks down the field while waiting for his ball to drop.

Edward Flordeliz keeps his eyes on the ball as he gets ready to tee-off.

Joe Fisher smiles as he shows us his follow thru as he swings at the ball.

Struggling through this basketball season, our Jets will be prepared for next year. This season started like a bang but unfortunately when the season came they had the top competitors to fight against. As our Jets struggled their way through this rough season, we learned and grew for new inspiration for our new Millennium Season. Jonah and Jonathan Canalin continue their tradition, being side by side to play against other teams with team work and family devotion and for the love of the game. Ed Thomas and Chris Davis keep the early inspiration for their Sophomore class to be at their best when they learn and grow throughout their years left of high school basketball and everything that comes with it.

Girls Var. Basketball

Success Out Of The Blue!

This year our Lady Jets went farther then ever! It has been a long time since our Lady Jets have made it to the NCS semi-finals. Now they are Head coached by Dwayne Hornage. They also have two new coaches: Davion Mitchell and an ex-lady Jet coach Apple Pineda. "This year is the best Girls basketball ever at Encinal," said Coach Hornage. The Lady Jets were seen on many local Television stations for their accomplishments this year. There were only two seniors on the varsity-team this year; Madel Pineda and Latasha McCorvey which will mean that our tradition will continue. "It was great playing with my teammates and I would like to thank them for playing as a team. Also thanks to the coaches," says Madel Pineda. Have a good year next year ladies.

Together they huddle in a cheer!

BASKETBALL

Boys J.V. And Freshman Basketball

Scoring Through The Blue

The J.V. team had battled their way through a tough season. The season had its ups and downs, but the J.V. team showed what they were made of. Through the countless hours of practice and dedication, they have accomplished a lot. They can lead the way to a great basketball team.

This year the Freshman team showed great potential. Coach Hipol had another great season lead by team captains Nick Loy and James Johnson. This young team showed us what team work is all about.

Even though they had a great season, they still have a lot to learn. They have the potential to be a really good team in the coming years.

Girls Hoops

The Lady's Game

An interview with 2 out of 3 girls basketball frosh team captains Mandy Lee and Rowena Quinto, the regular season was (8-1).

Q: How do you think the season went this year?

A: Being that this is the first year EHS has ever had a frosh team we did pretty good. The season started off really slow, but fortunately we got our act together and literally blew out all competition.

Q: What was the hardest game this year for your team?

A: It had to be Holy Names, the only game we lost. It was the first game of the season and we just made some careless mistakes that cost us the game.

An interview with J.V. basketball team captains Sonya Sarces and Dimple Pinda. Their pre-season record (13,3) and season record (10,2) they took the spot at 3rd place.

Q: How do you think the season went this year?

A: As us being returning player we feel that our season was okay, but we feel we could have done better as a team. We had a lot of individuality on the team, and we as a team broke the four expectations that were given to us at the year, which where 1) responsibility 2) respectful 3) loyal 4) honesty. We didn't accomplish our team goal to not take 3rd place again, and play as a team.

Encinal Cheerleaders

True And Blue

The 1999 Encinal Cheerleaders Squad was once again consisted of the most enthusiastic and spirited girls of the student body. There were four individual teams, with each squad divided by sport and level of sport. This year they cheered themselves all the way to competitions at Great America, but unfortunately did not come home winners.

Jordana Burgo said, "This year was hectic, but we still managed to get through it as a team." But all in all the girls did their best and showed much pride for Encinal High School. Gooo JETS!

At the big game the girls put on a great halftime show.

Boys Soccer

Gooaall!!

New year. New coach. New players. The head coach of the team was coach Tom Phillips who came all the way from the San Francisco Seals. Team Captain Mikah Macias Montoya, said "This year was pretty much a building year for the Varsity." The season started off with a bang! Varsity and J.V. had few returning players, so there was a lack of experience with playing as a team. But soon Varsity played Richmond, and really became united as a team. They now learned to work with each other successfully. As for J.V. their most inspirational game was when they played Albany. The captain of the J.V. team said, "We played hard and really played well together as a team. I really think next year, if we have the same coach, we will become a much stronger team."

There is a lot of potential on the Jets soccer team. Hopefully next year with more experience the soccer team can show everyone what they are really made of! Good luck next year and go Jets.

Girls' Soccer Team

Kick It One For Encinal!

1999's girls soccer team was coached by new comer Joe Mariscal. The team consisted of a whopping twenty players, despite the past years scarce participants. The team did not win as many games as they would have liked to, but there is no doubt that they improved greatly over the season. With the new coach came a new team. There was no doubt that the girls worked harder than any year before. Creeping toward the end of the season the girls pulled in close to making the playoffs, but with two veteran players, Aimee Barnes and co-captain Erin Knoth, unable to play this season was ended short. The teams improvement throughout the season and their hard work was what made coach Mariscal pleased at the end of the season when all was said and done.

Boys' & Girls' Tennis

Match Point

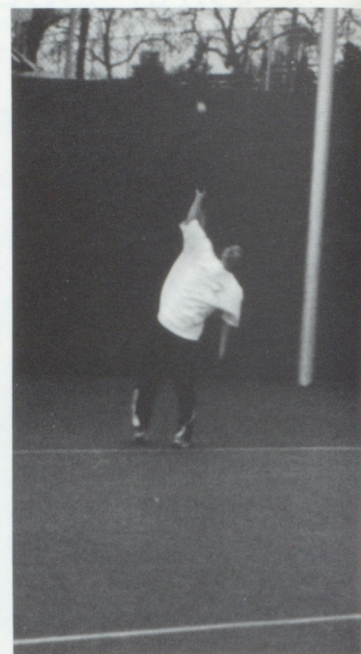

This year's tennis team has been serving up a great year. The impressive skills of the boys' tennis team have made them worthy league competitors. Playing with tenacity and confidence, the boys plan to make Encinal known for a strong tennis program. Their worthwhile experiences will no doubt have an impact on their future performances. Hard work and dedication is the key to every game.

The girls' tennis team had a great year as well. Unfortunately, we didn't capture any of their action pictures, we all know that they had a very competitive year.

Boys, Volleyball Team

Junior Varsity Team

The Boys Volleyball team consists of some great athletes. Two star players returned from last year. This was the second year for Encinal's Boys Volleyball program and they were quite successful. The Varsity team had a very competitive year. Last year's team unfortunately saw no wins. This year's team improved and captured some big wins. Coached by Chris Batista, their athletic ability and cohesiveness should make for a competitive and hard to defeat team in the coming years.

The J.V. team had a great season. They struggled in the beginning, but came up with some important victories by the seasons end. Many of the J.V. players will return to play varsity next season. Considering the talent, Encinal's volleyball program has the potential to build a championship team in the future. We anticipate many winning seasons in the coming years.

Jets Badminton

Watch The Birdie!

This year's badminton team excelled to a higher level, contributing to pride amongst Encinal Jets. We played many teams that failed to take down the mighty Jets. We are a successful team because of our good chemistry. The motto for our team was to believe in ourselves and never give up because without these factors we would never have been able to accomplish what we did.

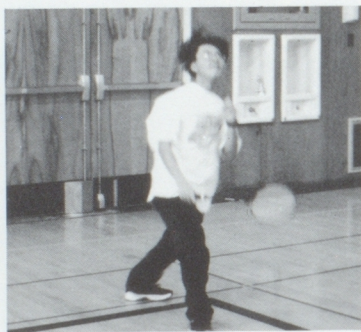

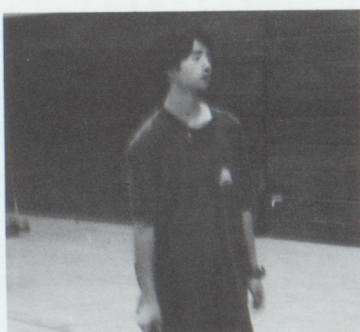

The Jets couldn't be stopped. There were times when we couldn't find our strength, but that is when our team work would come in. We would cheer each other on and thus would find the strength to become winners. That is the way we believe that all teams should be. Everyone worked together and the bond between us became very strong. That is what makes our team special.

Cindy Chung takes aim and lets the birdie fly as she sends it into the opponent's court.

Jory Latore anxiously anticipates the birdie to score the winning point.

Men & Women Swim Team

Making A Splash

The 1998-99 Encinal Men and Women's swim team is making a splash! "We have a really great team this year," says Junior Kyle Baldi. The team practices in the mornings and after school and their hard work and commitment is definitely showing up at their meets. The boys team is mostly consisted of upperclassmen as opposed to the majority of underclassmen on the girls side. Veteran swimmer Erin Knoth says "Our girls team is really making progress and we are very proud of our team." Good job Swim team and keep up the work.

Varsity Baseball

Hit It Home

The boys Varsity Baseball team is known for making our school proud each year. This year with 9 varsity players returning they are already giving the fans something to cheer about. The team gets lots of tips and support, considering they have four coaches. And the players are out there each day practicing for perfection. Many of the players take their dedication to the sport, and commitment to their team very seriously, and it shows each week when their games come around. Keep up the good work!

Softball

Hitting Balls Out Of The Blue!

Our Varsity Softball team tried very hard this year. Most of the players were returning from last year. Even though the pitchers were new they still had great spirit. The coach this year was Kristin Glenchur. She had some great new ideas for our lady jets. There was a lot of work in-involved but, they still had tons of fun. Coach Glenchur was assisted by Nicole. She was one of the many women to go pro in college softball. The Lady Jets Softball team had good team work and participation throughout the whole season. Lady Jets are Red Hot!!!

(Standing) Coach Nicole, May Tai, Linda Lau, Rena Rivera, Latasha McCorvey, Em Sinick, Kerry Ly, Coach Glenchur. (Kneeling) Tina Tran, Anna Babasa, Julie Ciudelli, Sayonara Silva, Leslie Fales, Katey Carr, Jennifer Lopez.

"Starting off young this year, but as we grow, gloves are popping, feet aren't stopping, bats are ringing, and girls are singing ... VICTORY!!!"-Captain Rena Rivera-

Sophomore, left fielder, Tina Tran, preps for a direct and clean throw to 3rd base. This is Tina's second year playing Varsity Softball for Encinal.

Senior Shortstop, Rena Rivera gets down and ready for whatever comes her way. No balls getting past her. Sadly this is her final year with us.

Junior, Em Sinick is the Varsity catcher. She struts to the catcher's box and gets ready to do her best. This is Em's second year playing Varsity Softball.

Latasha McCorvey practices her hitting technique with the wiffle balls just before a game. This is Latasha's last year playing with us. Good Job!!

J.V. Softball

Coming Out Of The Blue

This was the 1st year there was a J.V. softball team. Mostly newcomers the team was very tight with each other. They gave support to everyone on the team. The coach for J.V. was also Kristin Glenchur assisted by Camilla, a grad student for U.C. Davis. She showed positive energy and enthusiasm to get the J.V. team juiced. J.V. tried very hard to have good focus on the game each time they played, with only two pitchers on J.V. some of the Varsity pitchers came out to help at some of the games. J.V. did very well this year. J.V. JET PRIDE!!

"Our team always pulled together every game to do the best we could"-Anonymous

Gloves in the dirt! Jennah Cook gets ready to catch the ball as a Dublin player takes a lead. Jennah's position is 1st base and this is her 1st year playing.

EHS Drill Team

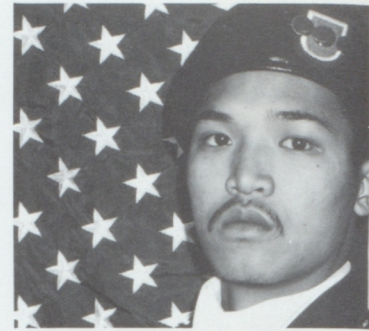

Unit, Honor, Dignity

The JROTC Drill Team is a year round sport offered by the program. The Varsity and Junior Varsity team consists of 25 Members. Cadets dedicate their time practicing routines for upcoming events. From performing at the Raiders games to competing against tough schools from all over California and the Western region, the cadets distributed a lot to be recognized. The drill team is the comparison to the silent drill platoon. You hear the OOHS!! and the AHHS!! from the crowd when they do their routine. They perform with such enthusiasm and pureness. Although the year is coming to an end, the drill team's year has just began. They have many performances throughout the summer.

Sopho Class O

Two down, two to go. Who are they? The Sophomore Class of 2001, of course! Now as Sophomores, they've escaped the terror of being Freshmen. No more penny throwing, trash-can stuffing, or name calling. Lucky for them, heh? Homecoming made their ego even bigger, as they tied for second in the annual Homecoming skits. The Class of 2001 will graduate with the turning of the century, and will open many doors for years to come.

more f 2001

The Yearbook Staff

People probably wonder what goes on behind the closed doors of Mr. Bells's room number 217 during 4th period. Well that answer does vary. Putting Encinal's yearbook together is an enormous responsibility. The Encinal yearbook staff is a hard working group of students dedicated to completing this task. The class is divided into groups with each group designated to a different section of the yearbook. Every group has an editor that is responsible for all work in that section. Mr. Bell, the advisor oversees the class.

Even though we are divided into groups we are all united as one hard working team. Our team has worked many long hard hours, overcame obstacles and managed much stress to meet all deadlines. Yearbook may appear to be a breeze to others but, the work our staff does is pressing. Photography, writing, designing layouts, cropping photos, correcting proofs are only a few of the many jobs necessary to create a solid and unique yearbook. Our class is dedicated to just that.

Throughout the year we have entitled ourselves to moments of celebration to reward the serious work we've completed. We've learned from each other and that has made our yearbook a success. The dedication of our staff shines through from cover to cover. We have stayed true to bring you "Out of the Blue".

Leadership

Leading Our Way Out Of The Blue

This year for leadership was a time of transition. Not only were there a number of new students and officers, but a new advisor, Mr. Spencer, was introduced to the class as well. Much of the time of the leadership class this year was devoted to reorganization and reflection. The school's twenty year old constitution was even reworked!

Along with their work to improve student government, the leadership class managed to pull off a number of great events.

Homecoming is traditionally a time of great excitement and class competition, and this year was no exception. All the classes worked really hard, and the whole event was a blast. That night was celebrated with a great turnout at the Homecoming dance. There is no question that this was an all time high school spirit here on Encinal's campus.

Another great example of school spirit was the Fall Sports Assembly. All the fall sports teams were recognized, and the MCs pumped the audience up with enthusiasm. The assembly was enjoyed by students and teachers alike, and it was said to be the best assembly in the past ten years.

Of course, no year at Encinal would be complete without "The Big Game Week"-the time where we honor the superiority of Encinal over Alameda High School. During this time, the leadership class had a number of activities going on including dress days and lunchtime activities. Although the game wasn't all we expected, we still had a great time in the process!

This year's leadership class had some great events, redefined themselves, and had fun during the whole experience. With a number of great students and a new advisor, this year can only be expected to get better.

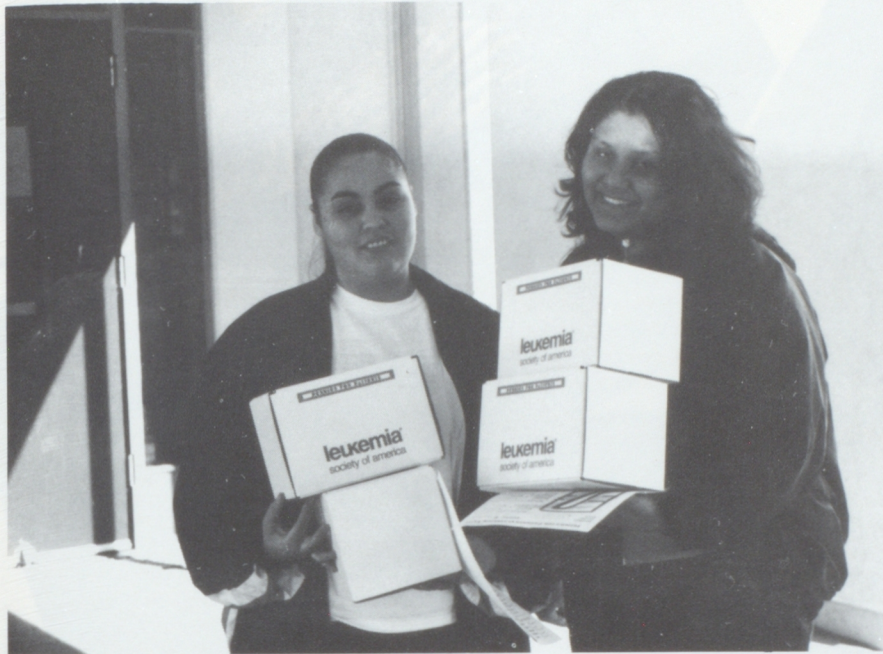

One of the biggest leadership responsibilities is Homecoming week.

Large and in charge

Smile for the camera! Michael Lopez, Aimee Barns and Scott Destafaney work the door at one of our many dances

Lauren Sonnoman, Leslie Fales, Tamara Crockett, Charles Edwards and Althea Valray do a good deed by going from class room to class room trying to raise money for the Leukemia Foundation.

Is this it? Tamiya Crockett looks for the work she needs to do for leadership class

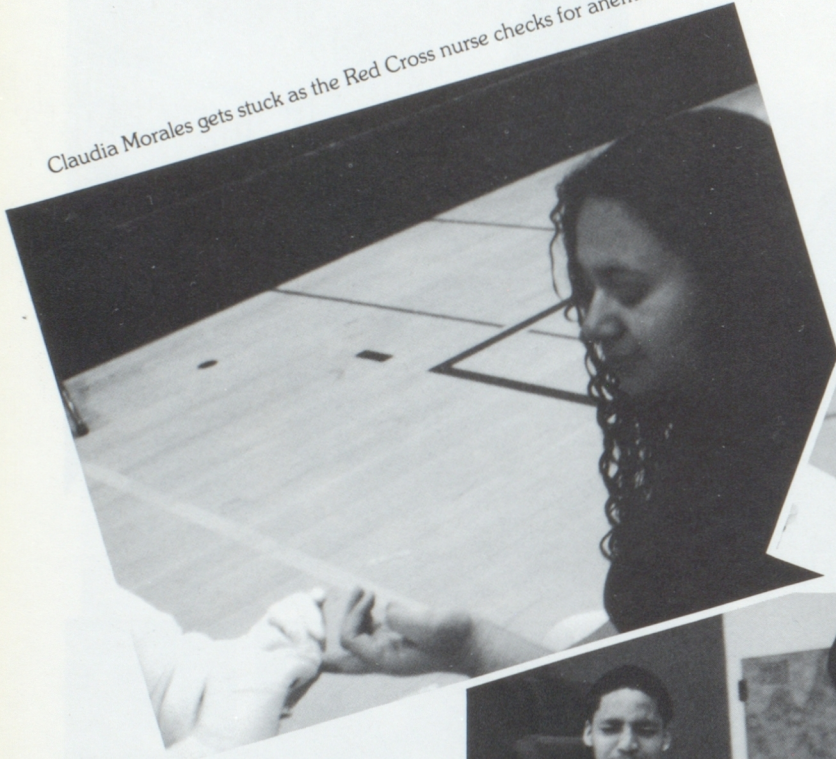

Tony Ching and Sarah Grenfull take time to add up just how much money was donated from each class to the Leukemia Foundation.

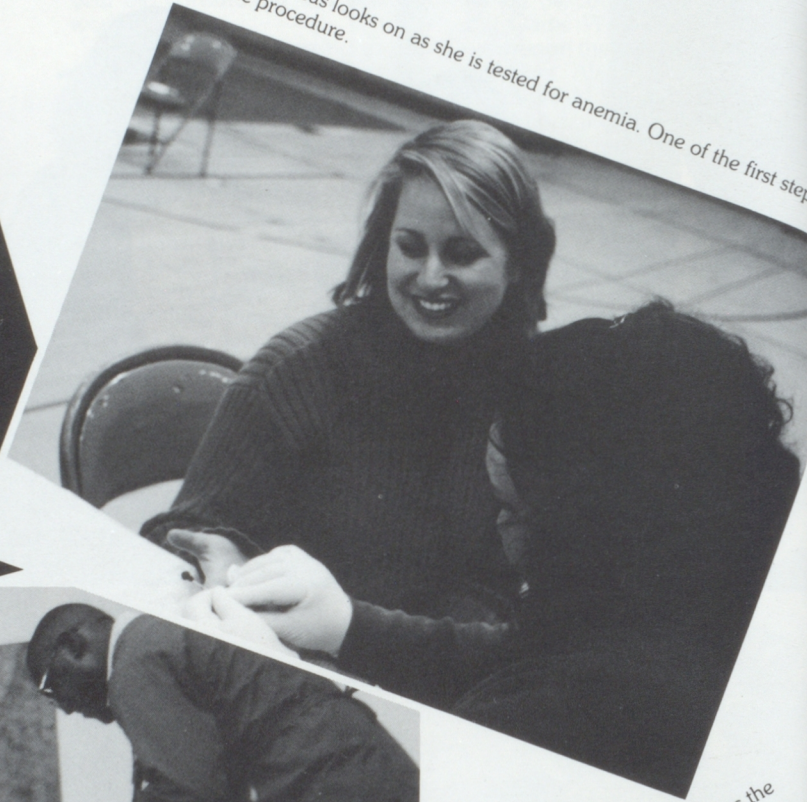

Blood Drive

Faculty as well as students gave blood for this year's blood drives. The blood drives were held on two separate days, some donating plasma on both occasions. Each time a donor donates they can potentially save three lives. Our Jets show their compassion for others by actively participating in this all important event.

Claudia Morales gets stuck as the Red Cross nurse checks for anemia.

Ms. Pabarcus looks on as she is tested for anemia. One of the first steps in the procedure.

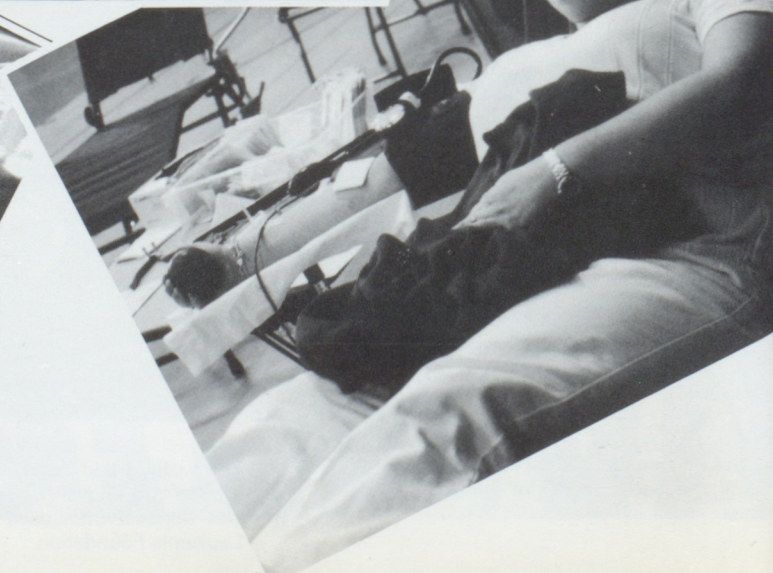

Jerome Barnes winces as the nurse pricks his arm and begins the donation.

Carolyn Lane grins as she squeezes the ball to help the blood flow.

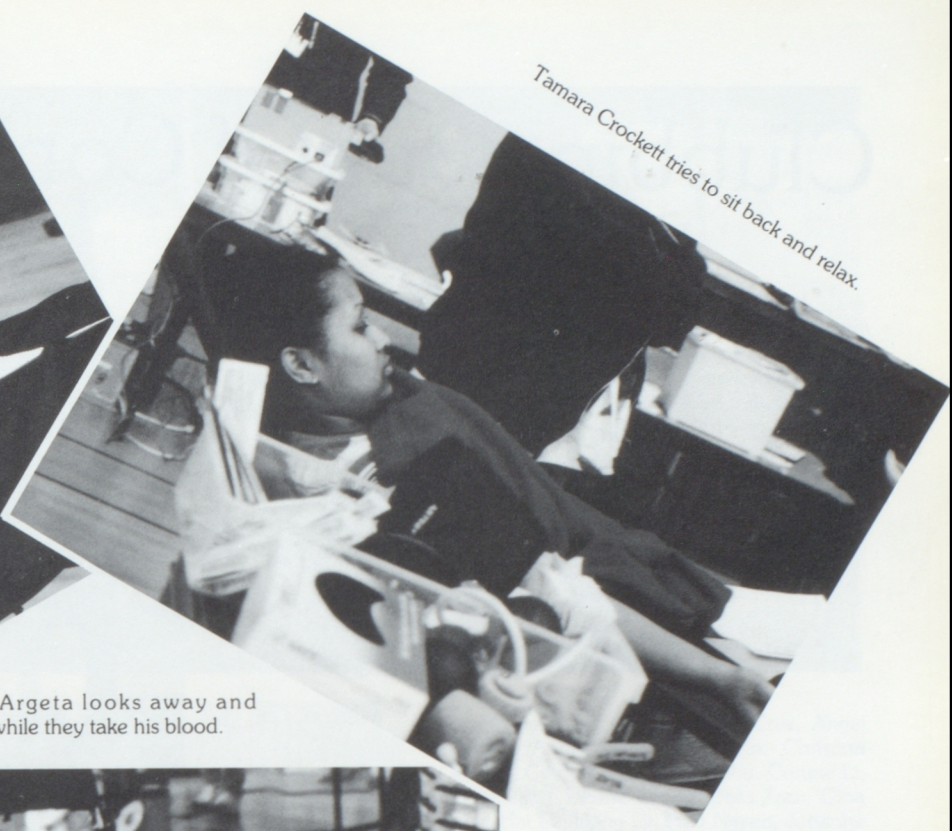

Aubrie Scott "whole heartedly" donates for a second time this year.

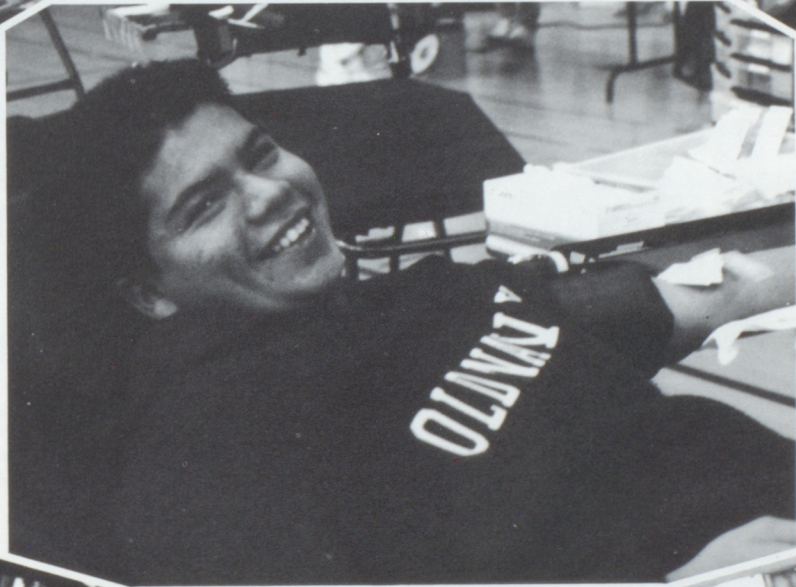

Kenya Alfred clings on for her life while having her blood pumped out of her body.

Tamara Crockett tries to sit back and relax.

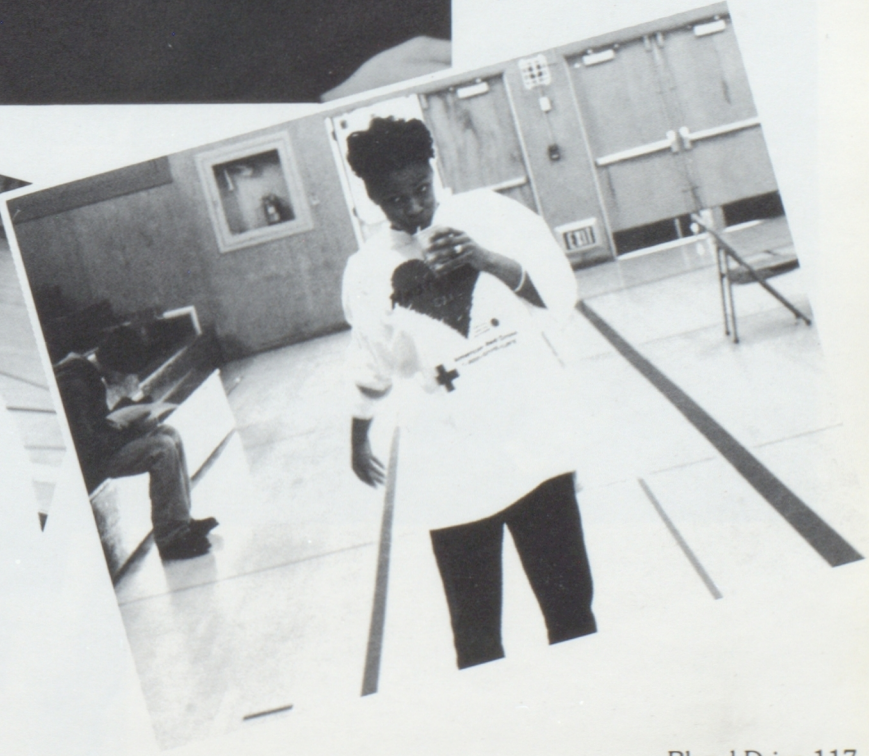

Omar Argeta looks away and smiles while they take his blood.

Luc Harris reenergizes by munching on some crackers after giving blood.

Davel Stevens takes a sip of some juice while proudly wearing her "Heart Rock" T-shirt.

Clubs In Action

Encinal High School is a great place to find diversity, varied cultures, and interests. You could find all of these by walking into Encinal's clubs. You could find interests of all ranges, from Chinese to Yo-Yo, from Art to Drama, Latino to Decca. All clubs are open to anyone interested, and everybody is welcome.

What do you think of Encinal's clubs?

“They are so many clubs here at school. The wide variety is very beneficial, because you get to learn about different things.”

-Lauren Burns

“I love how you could be in so many clubs, it gives you something extra to do in school, and it looks great on your transcript.”

-Agatha de la Cruz

“Look at all the clubs at school, you could be involved in as many as you want. I also like that it looks good for college.”

-Lalaina Rideout

Much Ado About Nothing

In the Fall, the air was filled with poetry and laughter as the Drama Department presented Shakespeare's "Much Ado About Nothing," which takes place in Italy. This story of romance and human folly centers on two pairs of lovers, Beatrice and Benedick, played by seniors Anna Babasa and Andrew Ingraham, and Claudio and Hero, played by sophomores Cory Roberts and Julie Leyda.

The cast deftly handled the tangled text and both moved and amused the audience. A special part of the production was the inclusion of two faculty members as players, as Mr. Juarez and Mr. Rodriguez proved their mettle on the boards.

The play was performed on December 4, 5, 11, and 12.

Sara Cota (Don Pedro) eloquently speaks to Trisha Floyd (Antonio), Julie Leyda (Hero) and Jackie Gerson (Leonato).

The cast celebrates at the end of another excellent performance.

Andrew Ingraham (Benedick) and Anna Babasa (Beatrice) dance together at the masquerade.

Airen Neeley (Verges) and Leslie Fales (Dogberry) offer the audience some comic relief.

Amy Ponce (Balthasar) sings while Sara Cota (Don Pedro) and Jackie Gerson (Leonato) listen.

Cory Roberts (Claudio) kneels to his lady love, Julie Leyda (Hero), without knowing that it is her due to the mask that she is wearing at the masquerade.

The King And I

After more than twenty years, the Encinal Spring Musical returns to the gym in the production of Rodger and Hammerstein's "The King and I."

The story takes place in Siam, now Thailand, in the 1860s. A British teacher (Aimee Barnes) has come to the Royal Palace to teach the King's (Eric Campanano) many children and wives.

The relationship between Anna and the people of Siam, especially the King, deepens as she gets to know them.

The pictures shown here are from the many rehearsals for the show, since the year-book deadline was before the show actually took place.

The show was performed on April 23, 24, 30 and May 1.

Anna Leonowens (Aimee Barnes) sings to the Royal Children. Clockwise from Anna: Will Irons, Allison Orzell, Ryker Kangail, Christine Khalil, Andrew Moorhead, Bethany Rivard, Kristina Luo, and Julie Tam.

The King (Eric Campanano) places one of his children, Erica Leung, in her proper place while Mr. Moorhead, the director, oversees to see that it is done right.

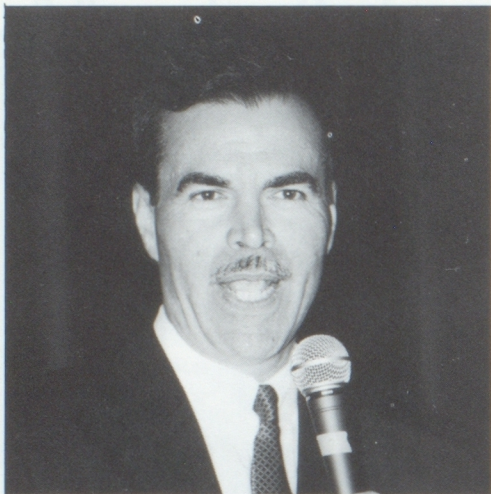

Some of the Royal Princes, Ryker Kangail, Vincent Giardino, Jace Burke, Will Irons, and Cameron Chan practice their dance routine in the "Getting to Know You" scene.

The King and his family: First Row (from top to bottom): Eric Campanano (King) and his wives Airen Neeley, Agatha de la Cruz, Lalaina Rideout, Lauren Sonneman, Vida Vazquez, Monique Trinidad, Trisha Floyd, Milan Lee, Tiffany Fisher, and Jennifer Acosta (Lady Thiang) The children: Second Row: Cameron Chan, Lauren Freeman, Allison Orzell, Julie Tam, Kristina Luo, Christine Khalil, Bethany Rivard, Will Irons and Claire Onyett. Third Row: Hillary Freeman, Amanda Yee, Tyler Scott, Jace Burke, Valerie Fong, Ryker Kangail, Erica Leung, Vincent Giardino, and Ginny Van Dine.

Singing at the E.H.S. Fashion Show: Ryker Kangail (Prince) and Trisha Tenney, Airen Neeley, Monique Trinidad, and Milan Lee. (wives)

House of Style '99 announcers were Brian Rodriguez, a senior class advisor, and junior Jerlina Love. House of Style is the most profitable and enjoyable event benefiting the Class of 1999.

Dasha Chadwick and Jamesa Sturkey sing a duet: "The Boy is Mine." Jennifer Acosta sings a solo, "Anything I Do I Do It For You." Demar recites a meaningful poem.

Business: Raquel Chaison, Anthony LeBlanc, Terra Greathouse, Christine Soto and Dan Kreuzer are getting down to business.

Prom: Jessica Schappell, Jack Chung, Christina Fuentes, and Jasenta Blackman are working the runway in prom style.

Spirit Assemblies

Showing Our True Spirit

Assemblies are an essential part of Encinal's uniqueness. They give students the opportunity to run the show in their own individual ways to present to the school the strength and spirit of "Jet Pride." From Fall sports, Homecoming, and other spirit assemblies, Encinal stands out for its flamboyance and flair. Our assemblies aren't just fun and games, important educational topics are discussed such as culture and beliefs to enlighten Encinal and open our eyes to the many different races, religions, and cultures in our school. Not only are these organized events spirited and delightful, but they're also a good reason to get out of class or enjoy a little entertainment during lunch. No matter how you perceive school assemblies, you always get something out of them. By students organizing assemblies, and other students observing them make for a give and take relationship of entertaining, applauding and cheering with real "Jet Pride."

Sadies Auction And Dance!

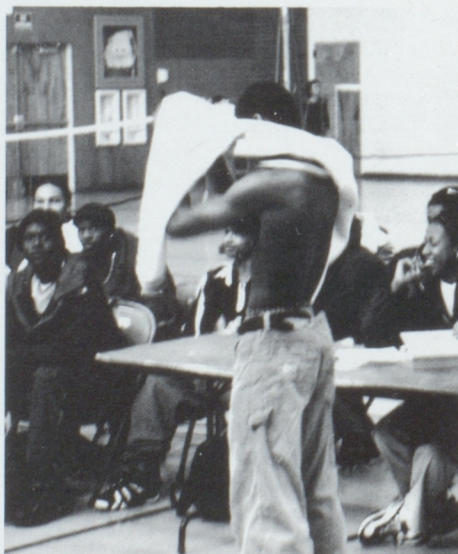

Going Once, Twice, And Sold!

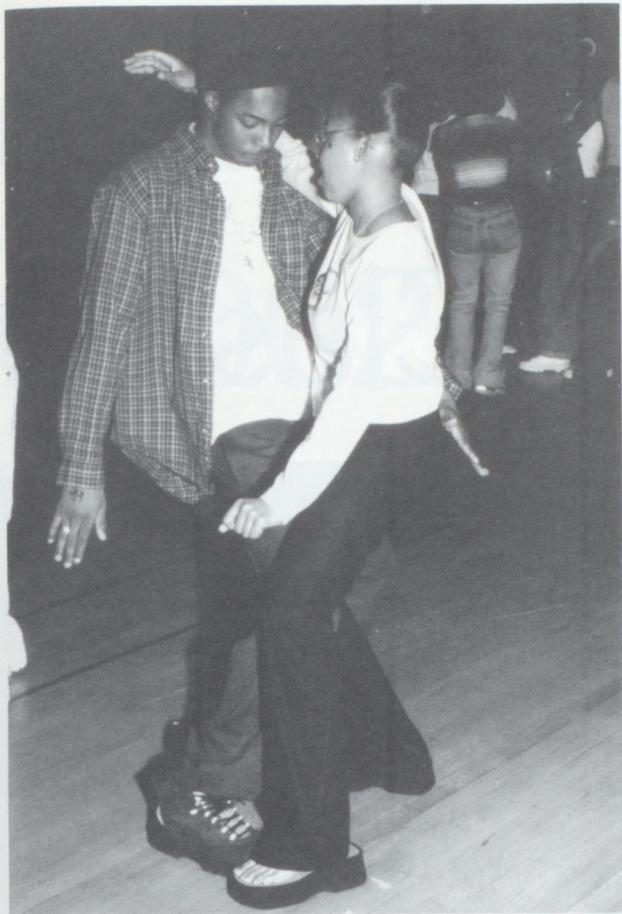

For the last 3 years, Encinal has held the Sadie Hawkins dance and Auction to help raise money for the senior class. The auctioneers consists of the boys at Encinal and the girls bid for a date at the Sadie Hawkins dance.

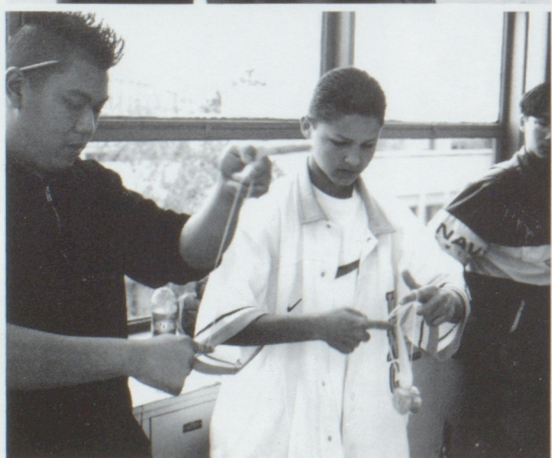

At this year's auction the bidding ranged from a measly buck (which most boys went for) to anywhere from 5 dollars, 15 dollars and the highest at 40 dollars. Girls had their 1 chance to compete for secret crushes, support a friend, or just watch for fun.

Some male egos were deflated as the crowd was tough. But it didn't stop them from taking it to the extreme by doing dance moves on the floor, stripping down to their bare skin and muscles, and even pouring body oil on themselves. But in the end it was all fun and laughs and the senior class raised at least 150 dollars.

Fresh Class O

The Freshmen are here! The Freshmen are here! The biggest class at EHS is coming on strong and catching on to ropes of high school. Freshmen Homecoming events were awesome. Because of their hard work and dedication, the Freshmen came in first in the hallway men f 2002

competition. Their ego got even bigger, as they tied for second with the Sophomores in the annual Homecoming skits. This year's Freshmen class of 2002 are coming on strong. They greatly anticipate their successful future here at Encinal.

Horizon 99: Ending Of A New Beginning

The 1999 Horizon "Out of the Blue" was made possible by the hard work, dedication and creativity of this year's staff members. All 188 pages of this 8.5x11 inch trim books are credited to the Horizon staff, editors, our yearbook advisor Mr. Michael Bell, our new Jostens Representative: Ms. Gayle Leksan and Jostens Printing and Publishing and overall construction for this book was done. The front cover was custom-designed to reflect our theme and school. Our staff was divided into 5 sections: Activities section, Mugs section, Senior section, Sports section and Academics section who had their own duties to fulfill every deadline. The book was completed in a series of five deadlines by March 23rd, 1999. A total of 420 books were delivered in June 1999.

The 1999 Horizons Yearbook staff would like to thank the following people:

Gayle Leksan
